Mayor of Salamanca, Spain

Prima di tutto, come Sindaco della città di Salamanca tengo a ringraziarvi per aver scelto la nostra città come sede del 2° Congresso Europeo di Yoga. Ringrazio e vi dò il benvenuto nella nostra città che ora è anche vostra. E vi ringrazio anche per confermare Salamanca innate condition as a place of encounter and knowledge. This was our motto when our city was designated as European Cultural Capital in 2002 and which allowed us to improve our cultural and tourist offering by adapting it to the demands of the new millennium.

As you will have the opportunity to see, Salamanca has been able to modernize without losing the historical background that led to its designation as World Heritage City in 1988. Salamanca is, above all else, a University; two universities, to be more exact. As a result, the city never ages since it is continually rejuvenated with each new academic course. It has been doing so for almost eight centuries now. It is also city of encounters, like yours, as well as a monumental and cosmopolitan city.

The international projection provided to us by the designation as European Cultural Capital was confirmed three years ago with the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the Plaza Mayor (The Main Square) that lent its name to a new event: "Salamanca 2005 Main Square of Europe". In the same year our city welcomed the 15th (XV) Ibero-American Summit of Presidents of States and Governments culminating a journey that had begun a decade earlier to make Salamanca well known throughout the entire world.

Now your presence confirms not only our vocation and virtues as place for encounters, but also the European projection that this international congress provides our city. During three intense days, from 27th to 29th October, you will be holding your conferences, debates, theoretical and practical communications and extraordinary courses. Have no doubt that you have chosen the perfect setting and that Salamanca will amply reward you for all the efforts in making this trip. Because our city, apart from being noble, loyal, charitable, and knowledgeable, is also a very hospitality town and, I assure you that this we will confirm with deeds.

I would like to finish as I began: by giving all of you our gratitude for selecting us and by welcoming you to our city. You and your II European Congress of Yoga are already part of its history.
